Required/Essential Qualifications:

1. Applicants must have a minimum of a Master's degree in Operations Management or Supply Chain Management or an equivalent program from an accredited institution with substantive coursework in Operations Management, or be ABD. If ABD, the applicant must have completed a minimum of two years residency as a full-time doctoral student in Management (with substantive coursework in Operations Management) in his/her program from an AACSB-International accredited school or major internationally recognized university with a curricular emphasis in the field of Operations Management.
2. If the applicant has a Master's degree and is not ABD or Ph.D. in the Operations Management discipline, the applicant must have operations management or supply chain management experience that demonstrates active involvement in his/her profession since the time of the Master's degree completion.
3. Applicants must have experience in either training/public speaking within an organized setting or teaching at least one university-level course as instructor or teaching assistant.
4. Applicants must exhibit abilities, skills and enthusiasm consistent with teaching excellence and instructional innovation in the area of Operations Management.

Preferred Qualifications:

1. Ph.D. from an AACSB-International accredited institution or major internationally recognized university in Operations Management.
2. Demonstrated ability to teach Introductory Production and Operations Management and Operations Management elective courses at the undergraduate level to a diverse group of students.
3. Demonstrated ability to use a variety of teaching methods in a classroom with a diverse group of students.
4. Evidence of the potential to conduct and disseminate knowledge in the area of Operations Management.
5. A willingness to fulfill service responsibilities to students, colleagues, the department, School, campus, community and professional organizations.

APPLICATION INFORMATION: Applications must be submitted online. To apply for this position, go to <http://www1.umn.edu/ohr/employment/> and search for job opening 322371.
