

TOULOUSE BUSINESS SCHOOL

Assistant or Associate Professor
Operations Management/Management Science
Toulouse, France

The Department of Information, Operations and Management Science of Toulouse Business School is seeking to fill in one faculty position in operations management, management science, industrial organization or a closely related field, to maintain and develop its reputation for excellence in research and high quality teaching. The position is open from September 2018, and remain opened until filled in. Junior applications are welcome.

JOB QUALIFICATIONS:

The successful candidate will have a PhD (or be close to completion), demonstrate an active and promising research agenda (junior position), a solid record of publications and/or the recognition of her/his research at an international level (associate professor position), and the potential to publish in leading academic journals. Successful candidates are expected to teach operations management, management science, industrial organization and related fields at the undergraduate, the post-graduate, and the executive education levels. Successful junior candidates are not expected to participate in administrative duties, outside the participation to the administration of the modules he/she will teach. Associate professors may participate to the administrative duties of the Department and the School (such as heading a Specialized Master, a Master of Science, or a specialized track at the post-graduate/M1 level). According to the candidate's profile, teaching can be done partly or entirely in English.

ABOUT THE SCHOOL:

Toulouse Business School (TBS) was the first French business school outside Paris area to obtain AACSB, EQUIS and AMBA accreditations. The School has five campuses: Toulouse, Paris, Barcelona (Spain), London (UK) and Casablanca (Morocco). It has a core "Grande Ecole" Program, lasting three years with roughly 700 students entering each year, which delivers a Master in Management. There are more than twenty specialized Master programs (one of which specializes in supply chain management), an MBA program, and an executive program. The School has formed a partnership with the Department of Management of the University of Toulouse I (TSM) to offer a joint PhD program in Management (Ecole Doctorale) and is a member of Université Fédérale Toulouse Midi-Pyrénées (<http://en.univ-toulouse.fr/our-strengths>). Toulouse Business School offers competitive working conditions.
