

2022 Teaching Effectiveness Colloquium

Who Should Attend?

The 2022 Teaching Effectiveness Colloquium is designed to address the needs of graduate students about to enter the academic job market as well as faculty looking to stay abreast of the "best practices" regarding OR/MS/analytics pedagogy. The colloquium features a wide variety of speakers from business and engineering schools who will address different aspects of incorporating and assessing effective teaching techniques in any undergraduate or graduate curriculum.

2022 Teaching
Effectiveness
Colloquium
Co-Chairs

Sadan Kulturel-Konak
Penn State - Berks

Teaching Effectiveness Colloquium Sessions

Presenter	Topic
Jill Hardin Wilson	Considerations for Flipping the OR/MS/Analytics Classroom
Larry Snyder	Gamifying Learning in Mathematical Optimization: The Burrito Optimization Game
Abdullah Konak	Collaborative Creative Problem-Solving Techniques
Susan Martonosi	Boosting student learning with a more inclusive classroom
Destenie Nock	Integrating Social justice and equity into operations research classes

Justin Goodson
Saint Louis University

2022 Combined
Colloquia Sponsors