

Visiting Assistant Professor of Operations Management at Boston College

The Carroll School of Management at Boston College is seeking applicants for a visiting assistant professor position in Operations Management. Applicants must have a Ph.D. (or ABD) in Operations Management or related discipline and an outstanding teaching record or potential. Industry experience is preferred but not required. The appointment is expected to begin on September 1, 2019.

The position calls for the candidate to teach three courses in each of the Fall and Spring semesters. The contract is for one year only. Salary and benefits are highly competitive with both tenure-track and non-tenure track positions at other universities. A research budget (such as to allow conference travel) will be provided. Information about the Operations Management Department is available at: <https://www.bc.edu/bc-web/schools/carroll-school/academic-departments/operations-management.html>

Please submit application in electronic form at <https://apply.interfolio.com/59406>. Please include a cover letter, a vita, contact information for three references, and evidence of teaching experience or effectiveness (if available). Applications will be accepted on a rolling basis until the position is filled.
