Announcing 2022 POMS College of SCM Best Student Paper Competition Finalists

This year, the award committee received 52 submissions for the 2022 POMS College of Supply Chain Management (SCM) Student Paper Competition. We thank all the participants. The first prize will be accompanied by a $1,000 honorarium, the second prize a $500 honorarium, and all papers receiving an honorable mention a $200 honorarium.

Thanks to many reviewers whose names are attached at the end of this announcement, the following four papers have been chosen as the finalists. We would like to invite you to attend presentations of these finalists (online) at the POMS Annual Conference this week. A jury of four faculty members will evaluate the finalists' presentations to determine the winners of the competition.
