Frankfurt School of Finance & Management is one of Europe's leading business schools, accredited by AACSB, EQUIS and AMBA. We are seeking to fill a position as

Professor of Information Systems and Digital Business

This is a teaching-oriented position; teaching will be in English in Frankfurt School's Bachelor and Master programmes. Topics include digital business models and product development, technical implementation with modern application system architectures (e.g., micro service architectures) and IT infrastructure architectures. Knowledge in one or more of the following areas is also desirable: Information System Management, Enterprise Architecture Management as well as Distributed Systems and Architectures.

We offer a stimulating environment, including a research seminar series, a PhD programme, generous research funding, and all the opportunities of a dynamic private business school. The city of Frankfurt is ranked 7th worldwide in the Mercer "Quality of Living" Ranking 2019.

Application deadline is May 31, 2020. Please submit your application including a CV, contact information for at least two references, and three papers (published or unpublished), via interfolio following this link: http://apply.interfolio.com/74867 . Seasoned candidates should also include evidence of teaching effectiveness (courses taught and evaluations).

Frankfurt School values diversity and seeks talented students, faculty and staff from diverse backgrounds. We explicitly encourage international applications; German language skills are not required within Frankfurt School. Frankfurt School is an equal-opportunities employer.

For further information on Frankfurt School, see our website: www.frankfurt-school.de. For inquiries about the position, please contact Peter Rossbach (p.rossbach@fs.de).